JMP MARINE STRENGTHENS TIES WITH JERRY'S MARINE SERVICE

JMP Marine, manufacturer of general-purpose and engine cooling pumps, flexible impellers and sea strainers, reported a 131% increase in sales through Jerry's Marine Service. The 2017/2018 YoY figure was bolstered by the Fort Lauderdale-based distributor marketing the JMP Marine name, rather than rebranding with its private label.

"Jerry's Marine saw the brand recognition JMP Marine has in Europe and its steady growth in North America," said Frederick Leidecker, JMP operations manager. "They requested using our name and we were happy to oblige. They've become a strong partner for us and we look forward to continued shared success."

The latest issue of the Jerry's Marine Service catalog features 11 pages of JMP Marine branded pumps for Caterpillar, Cummins, Detroit Diesel, John Deere, Northern Lights, Volvo Penta, Westerbeke and Yanmar. It's available at www.jerrysmarinecatalog.com.

One of the largest marine distributors on the Eastern Seaboard, Jerry's Marine Service stocks hundreds of engines and transmissions, and thousands of related parts from over 150 manufacturers. It has the resources to quickly turn around shipments to any worldwide destination. Its website is www.jerrysmarine.com.
