JMP MARINE SEES RECORD SALES GROWTH IN 2021

JMP Marine, the North American branch of South Korean JMP Corporation, has posted record sales figures for 2021. Through its replacement and OEM marine engine cooling pumps, bronze and flexible impellers, seawater strainers and related accessories business, growth within the US and Canada was 37.5% over the previous year.

"As marine engine manufacturers introduce new models, JMP engineers and manufactures pumps to replace the OEM parts," said Frederick Leidecker, JMP Marine USA operations manager. "Superior quality components and fittings, and increased performance due to improved water flow over original equipment, have made our replacement pumps increasingly popular within the aftermarket segment. Plus, with our Miami-based logistics center, we're continuing to grow the OEM side of our business, especially in the generator market."

Founded in 1976, JMP Corporation manufactures recreational and commercial marine products to exacting ISO 9001 standards. It launched Miami-based JMP Marine in 2010 and has since realized steady growth from the branch due to its robust network of sales reps and distributors throughout the US and Canada.
